By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in Vietnam dropped below 400,000 for the first time in more than 3½ years, as more cutbacks were announced today.

The U.S. Command said in a newly issued summary that American troop strength in Vietnam as of last Thursday was 399,500, a decrease of 2,800 over the previous week and the lowest since Jan. 14, 1967, when the strength was 398,400.

The top authorized U.S. strength in Vietnam was set in 1968 by former President Lyndon B. Johnson at 549,500 but that was never reached. Actual American strength in Vietnam reached its peak at 543,400 in April, 1969, a few months before President Nixon announced the first round of withdrawals.

In one of the new cutbacks announced Monday, the U.S. Command said the 7th Air Force's 31st Tactical Fighter Wing is being withdrawn from Tuy Hoa Air Base, 240 miles north-east of Saigon. The base is being transferred to the U.S. army.

Headquarters said that the reduction of airmen has been accomplished partly by a cutback in the previously programmed flow of replacements to Vietnam. This means that not all of the airmen in the 31st Tactical Fighter Wing will return home immediately. Some will be reassigned in Viet to complete their 12-month tours.

The U.S. Command was expected to announce this week the first of a series of moves to bolster the South Vietnamese Air Force with an eye toward cutting U.S. troop strength in Vietnam to fewer than 40,000 men by the end of 1972.

About 1,130 authorized spaces are being withdrawn later this month in Marine Fighter Attack Squadrons 122 and 314 and All-Weather Attack Squadron 242, the command said. All are in Vietnam as support for the 1st Marine Division, and their 33 F4 Phantom jets and all-weather A6 Intruders will be returned to the United States.

The men of the squadrons began preparations for leaving last Friday, a spokesman said. Sources said their removal will cut the fighter-bomber strength of the 1st Marine Air Wing about in half, and there was speculation that at least two of the 1st Division's three infantry regiments south of Da Nang will leave by the end of the year.

In the other theater of Indo-China fighting, Cambodian military authorities reported in Phnom Penh today that Radio Peking broadcast a message Aug. 28 by ousted Cambodian ruler Prince Norodom Sihanouk admitting for the first time that large numbers of North Vietnamese troops are operating in Cambodia.

A spokesman said the Cambodian-language broadcast called on Cambodians to overcome their ancient hatred of Vietnamese and cooperate with Hanoi's troops as they seek to overthrow the military government of Premier Lon Nol.

Sources at the American Embassy said it has no knowledge of the broadcast, but that it is possible the translated text has not reached American officials.

Fighting in Vietnam was light Sunday. The U.S. Command said two Americans were killed while U.S. forces killed 12 enemy. Ground fire brought down two U.S. light observation helicopters—14 miles southwest and

People's Convention Calls for End to Minority Oppression

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A demand for creation of an oppression-free socialist society was the central theme as the Black Panther party wound up the main event of its Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention.

The capitalist system, U.S. activities in other nations, the present treatment of women and various minority groups including homosexuals all came in for attack Sunday as spokesmen for 15 workshops presented their ideas for bettering society.

About 6,000 people, most young and about 35 per cent white, shot clenched fists into the air and shouted "right on" and "power to the people" as each demand was read inside the Temple University gymnasium that served as a convention hall.

Most demonstrated a concern that "the people" must directly control everything ranging from what they do with their own bodies to education, police, court justice and the actions of the military.

One workshop demanded that national minorities be guaranteed the right to integrate, segregate, federate, amalgamate, congregate, secede, or do whatever they wish, provided that no group oppresses any other group.

Other demands included: —Guaranteed representation for all ethnic groups in whatever government structure is formed in proportion to their numbers at the local level.

—Free housing, health care, education, and day care centers for children, all paid for by the government.

—The right, and the duty, for everyone to bear arms, perhaps in the form of a justice-dispensing "people's militia" that would include women.

—People judged only by their peers.

—Free abortion, sterilization, and contraceptive devices for men and women.

—Drastic changes in the present family structure, with more emphasis on communal living and men sharing house work equally with women.

—Both education and art to serve "the people," and assist in teaching revolutionary ideas.

A workshop on the distribution of political power produced a demand that present political boundaries be abolished and replaced by an undetermined number of autonomous, continuously evolving, self-governing communities from which political power would flow upward.

All special privileges would be forbidden, there would be no compulsory servitude or domination of one group by another and people would police and defend themselves.

The delegate who delivered that report said his group saw a gradual evolution from that point to a truly stateless society. The purpose of the three-day convention was to lay the groundwork for the drafting of a new constitution.

The actual drafting of a document for presentation to a future meeting will be done by a committee of delegates from several black organizations that participated in the session.

Jim: "How about telling our readers something about the Culbertson-Lenz match and the early days of contract. I know it did a lot to start you on your bridge career."

Oswald: "When contract began to become popular the auction bridge authorities started to rush books into print on the new game without bothering to learn anything about it. The best player of this group (most of whom were very old) was 57-year-old Sidney Lenz. Sidney was a wonderful person, a great whist and auction player but too old to learn the new game of contract. Forty-year-old Ely Culbertson was a brash young man who had written a great book on contract. The Culbertson system of 1931 wasn't much by modern standards but it was way ahead of the Official System played by Lenz and the old timers."

Jim: "I know both sides used honor tricks rather than point count and that must have been a handicap to both sides."

Oswald: "It was far more of a handicap to Lenz than to Ely. Ely used honor tricks with considerable variation. Lenz followed them implicitly. Here is one of Sidney's good hands. He played dummy's deuce of clubs and promptly dropped his queen under Ely's king."

Jim: "That play was his only real chance for the contract. It allowed him to finesse against East's jack of clubs later on so as to be able to discard a loser on the club ace."

Oswald: "It was an expert play. Sidney was a fine player and dropped his queen without batting an eye."

Explosives Regulations to Be Used

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)

— Emergency regulations to control the sale and handling of explosives go into effect Tuesday in Minnesota, rocked by eight bombs in three weeks.

The latest explosion, early Sunday, killed a man. Authorities said it was unlikely the remains could be identified.

Police said the victim appeared to have been carrying a bomb when it exploded in front of a south Minneapolis house, scattering debris over a 2½-block area.

The regulations, formulated by the attorney general's office after several meetings with law enforcement officials, will require positive identification of all buyers of high explosives, plus a 24-hour waiting period between purchase and delivery.

Four persons had been injured in seven previous explosions, all in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. One caused an estimated $500,000 damage to the old federal building in downtown Minneapolis.

Inspector Swede Ekblad said the blast Sunday was caused by a "plastic explosive." Officials refused to speculate whether the explosion was related to the earlier ones.

The 3 a.m. blast heavily damaged a house and shattered windows of homes and businesses in the area. No injuries were reported.

The explosion, which occurred during a thunderstorm, ripped out a 30-foot section of white picket fence in front of the house. The roof of the porch was left sagging. Scraps of lumber littered the porch. Dirt was plastered against the front of the two-story frame building.

The Sophia Mosby family was asleep in the house, but escaped injury.

Capt. Dan Graff, who led the investigation, said police did not know where the victim was coming from or where he was going.

A spokesman for the medical examiner's office said the dead person was believed to be a male wearing a black silk shirt, black beret, blue jeans and size 9½ loafers.

Robert Renner, U.S. Attorney for Minnesota, said last month "large shipments of explosives" had been brought into the state.

Renner declined to say who had brought the explosives in, what type they were or how he learned of them.

Six More Escape From Spa Jail

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)

Six persons escaped from the Garland County jail here late Sunday night while officers were busy searching for six of seven men who had escaped from the jail Friday night.

Sheriff's officers said the six who escaped Sunday night squeezed through a jail door and the first floor and fled through the same route used by those who escaped Friday. The seven men escaped Friday by sawing through bars on a jail window.

Those involved in the latest escape were identified as Franklin Frederick, 23; Charles Robinson, 19; Troy Moore, 26; Carl Walker, 28; William Graves, 16, all of Hot Springs and George Lee Sutton, 24, of Malvern.

Police said Sutton and Robinson were charged with burglary, Frederick and Moore with attempted robbery, Graves with forgery and uttering and Walker with assault with intent to kill.

Daymon was working with a construction crew at the site of the $8 million Holiday Island Development being constructed near Eureka Springs.

Says Bumpers Is Tool of Liberals

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus made another sharp attack on Dale Bumpers Sunday night during a televised speech that was shown on eight area stations.

Faubus referred to his gubernatorial primary runoff opponent as a tool of "bogus liberals" and newspaper editors who wanted to see "a gently contested race" for governor in the general election.

Faubus also raised the topic of busing children to achieve racial balance in public schools. It was not the first time, however, the former governor had attacked Bumpers's stand on this issue.

Alta Faubus Is Voting for Ex-Husband

LITTLE ROCK (AP)

Mrs. Alta Faubus said Saturday that she had voted for her ex-husband in the Aug. 25 primary and would support him Tuesday.

She said her support "will be a surprise to him."

A newsman interviewed Mrs. Faubus after Robert Trout of former Gov. Orval Faubus' campaign staff called to say that she was in town and had a statement to make.

Faubus faces Dale Bumpers of Charleston for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"Orval made a good governor and I hold no grudges," she said.

Faubus divorced his first wife last year and married the former Mrs. Elizabeth Westmoreland shortly afterwards.

"What happened between Orval and me is in the past," she said. "I know he worked hard for the people when he was governor, and I'm sure he will again. I also know a lot of progress was made when he was governor, and will be again."

It's a new day in Arkansas!

The people of Arkansas are demanding fresh, new, honest leadership . . . leadership that will serve the people and not the politicians . . . leadership that will unify and not divide . . . leadership that will talk common sense and not sensationalism.

The issues in the campaign are difficult to define, but the problems in our state are many. The most important questions, however, in the minds of the people are—who can they believe will do what he says he will do, and who will be an honest governor.

Confidence in our leadership can be restored when we elect a man governor who will speak honestly and openly on all issues, whose word is his bond, and whose word the people believe.

Dale Bumpers will bring dignity and respect to the highest office in the state.

Tuesday, September 8, Turn Your Back On The Old Politicians, And Look For A New Day. Elect Dale Bumpers Governor.

Purtle Campbell Wedding

Miss Dianne Purtle and Ronald Lawrence Campbell were united in a double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in an informal home wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Purtle of 801 East Sixth Street, Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Campbell, 225 Merton Avenue, Hartland, Wisconsin.

Mr. Purtle escorted their daughter to an improvised altar flanked by greenery and white tapers, where the Rev. Clyde Johnson was the officiant.

The bride chose a street length dress of white shag linen designed on princess lines. She wore a matching bandeau of linen and lace and carried a colonial bouquet of Fleur de Amour.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thurman, sister and brother-in-law of the bride were the couple's attendants.

The couple greeted family and friends at a reception following the exchange of vows.

Before leaving on a short wedding trip the bride changed into a navy and white dress and pinned a nosegay from her bouquet at her shoulder. Mrs. Campbell was graduated from St. Edwards School of Nursing before enlisting in the U. S. Air Force as a 2nd Lieutenant and is stationed at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base in Tucson, Arizona.

The bridegroom was recently discharged from the U. S. Air Force as a Staff Sergeant and will resume his undergraduate studies in medicine at Marquette University. He will be employed as a physician's assistant at Hartland Clinic Hartland, Wisconsin.

Out of town guests for the Campbell-Purtle wedding were - Greg Campbell, brother of the groom, of Hartland, Wisconsin, Miss Gayle Williams, Dennis Ramsey, Mrs. George Wright Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Purtle and family, all of Little Rock, Mrs. Joe Hart of McCrory and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thurman and family of Sheridan.

Victory Extension Club

The Victory Extension Homemakers Club met September 2 in the home of Mrs. Fanny Calhoun with 9 members and 1 guest, Mrs. G.T. Adams, present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Cecil Smith.

The hostess gave the devotion from the 23rd Psalm. Mrs. Pearl Cash led the group in singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "Red River Valley." A poem entitled "Prayer Answered" was read by Mrs. Eva McKinney. The Home Management leader, Mrs. Audrey Hampton, gave the lesson, "Using Credit Cards." The roll call was answered by telling "How many credit cards I have." Mrs. Smith read the Thought of the Month, "A great man is what he is because he was what he is."

Mrs. Gracie Alford performed her duties as secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Renee Willett displayed the club's 1970 scrapbook for the members to see what had been accomplished the first 8 months of the year.

Mrs. McKinney directed a game called "Grab Bag" with Mrs. Alford winning the prize. Also during the social hour, Mrs. Claudia England received a birthday gift from her Secret Pal. The hostess served nuts, mints, chips, cake and punch. Mrs. Maxine Rowe won the door prize.

The October meeting will be with Mrs. Joe Willett.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jerry Van Dyke, Dick's younger brother, is about to be discovered—again.

The first time it happened, eight years ago, Jerry played Dick's brother in "The Dick Van Dyke Show." He was immediately signed by CBS which was impressed but didn't have anything specific in mind for him.

Eventually he was given a summer replacement game show, "Picture This," which failed to make history or do much for Van Dyke's career.

Then came what seemed to be his big chance: Comedian on "The Judy Garland Show."

"I started to have a bad feeling when I saw the first line I was to say—'What's a nice little old lady like you doing on TV?'" said Jerry, with a shudder. "I complained and tried to get it changed—no use."

Of course, Jerry's line was not what sank the show but it probably helped. At any rate, Jerry and Jerry were in that storm-tossed vehicle for 13 weeks when it was mercifully scuttled by the network. Van Dyke, who had a nice little nightclub act going, went back quietly to the road.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Men in mourning over the demise of the knees can start to smile again. There are fall fashions to focus attention on areas equally pleasant to gaze upon — bosoms, bare backs and lean long body lines as revealed by slinky, snake-trimmed pants suits.

These open a whole new world of possibilities for girl watchers. For those who wish to look curvaceous enough to attract admiring stares, valuable assistance is available. New undergarments are made especially to help women achieve a softly feminine silhouette.

Top designers in Paris, London and New York have shown such gentle persuaders under their newest outerwear collections to enable models to look their best in body-revealing fashions. And if models need assistance, what's the poor average gal to do?

"Not to worry," the Contour Council, a spokesmen for the innerwear industry, says. They advise that these days it is easy to find just the right underpinnings for every new fashion. Modern advances in fabric and design make new undergarments go on like gentle yawns, stay put even during active sports and still offer necessary control.

Under the most daring décolletage there are "wow" cut bras to plunge and not play peek-a-boo. Some have straps that work a half-dozen different ways to accommodate halter, strapless and backless styles as well as the "keyhole" which reveals the shoulders and also curves low in the front.

New briefs and panty girdles control tummy, derriere and, when worn over pantyhose, keep stockings taut at knees and ankles. Wrinkle-free hose are important now, even as hemlines descend, because many new skirts are slit to the thighs and knees are exposed as you walk.

Prints flower on Leo Narducci's evening dress (left) with daringly low-cut back. New bras are especially designed to plummet with back and necklines and to subtly change shape under clingy chiffon. For the woman who would rather bare her bosom than her soul, Mollie Parris has created this revealing neckline. Underneath, a new bra plunges to accommodate the deep décolletage and to enhance the natural look. For a suede midi coat and pants such as this by Bege-Or (right), new bodysuits are recommended by the Contour Council. The all-in-one undergarments help smooth any bulges.

Bodysuits go to all lengths to please and ease a woman's torso into one lean, long line. With legs long enough to hold the thighs, these all-in-ones are perfect under svelte pantsuits. Shorter versions look like and weigh about as much as shadows but, amazingly, they improve on birthday suits.

A wide range of colors makes it possible to contrast or co-ordinate your innerwear with your outer garments. New espresso coffee shades, trimmed in creamy lace, are great with dark clothes. Prints, bold or demure, help you express your inner personality. "Nude" garments act as masques under see-through styles.

New undergarments, following the trend of fashion itself, are made for active women and help them to feel free and to move with grace. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

MODERN MOTHER, REACTIONARY DAD

Dear Helen:

Our son, age 28, was tricked into marriage by a woman who said she was pregnant. She turned out all bad. Now they're getting a divorce.

He has found someone who is right for him—and he moved in with her and her three children. I like this woman. The kids are wonderful—just what I'd want in grandchildren. There will be a marriage as soon as my son is free. Meanwhile, this is a cheaper and much happier way of living. The mother needs help with her tiny ones, my son needs someone to take care of him.

My husband violently disapproves. He will have nothing to do with any of them, including our son, as he says they are living in sin. All I can see is that they are happy, and why wait until a silly law says so?

As soon as they are legally married, my husband expects to be friends again. He yells "adultery," but I say this is hypocrisy. —WHICH

Dear Which:

...Technically: The first, but I agree with you — there's hypocrisy in your husband's attitude. If he likes his son and future daughter-in-law well enough to be friends after the ceremony, how can he ostracize them now, for an adult decision that affects no one vitally but themselves?

Your son had better be sure, however, that his present arrangement doesn't affect divorce proceedings. — H.

Dear Helen:

With millions of youngsters trekking to school for the first time, I thought this little gem might be worth repeating. It was sent anonymously to the National Family Opinion Service, Inc., Toledo, Ohio:

World, Take My Son By The Hand

My son starts school tomorrow. It's going to be strange and new to him for a while.

And I wish you would sort of treat him gently.

You see, up to now, he's been king of the roost. He's been boss of the back yard. I have always been around to repair his wounds and to soothe his feelings.

But now — things are going to be different.

He's going to walk down the front steps, wave his hand and start on his great adventure that will probably include wars and tragedy and sorrow.

To live his life in the world he has to live in will require faith and love and courage.

So, world, I wish you would take him by his young hand and teach him the things he will have to know. Teach him...but gently, if you can.

He will have to learn, I know, that all men are not just, that all men are not true.

Teach him that for every scoundrel there is a hero — for every crooked politician there is a dedicated leader — that for every enemy there is a friend. Let him learn early that the bullies are the easiest people to lick.

Teach him the wonders of books. Give him quiet time to ponder the eternal mystery of birds in the sky, bees in the sun and flowers on the green hill.

Teach him that it is far more honorable to fail than to cheat. Teach him to have faith in his own ideas, even if everyone else tells him they are wrong. Try to give my son the strength not to follow the crowd when everyone else is jumping on the bandwagon.

Teach him to listen to all men, but to filter all he hears on a screen of truth and to take only the good that comes through.

Teach him to sell his brawn and brains to the highest bidder, but never to put a price on his heart and soul.

Teach him to close his ears on a howling mob — and to stand and fight if he thinks he's right.

Teach him gently, world, but don't coddle him, because only the test of fire makes fine steel.

This is a big order, world, but see what you can do. He's such a nice little fellow. —

Trouble is, there aren't that many clear days in Denver anymore.

Item: Denver has the worst weather conditions of any city in the country for smog, except possibly Los Angeles.

Item: Denver has one of the highest ratios of cars per capita of any city in the United States.

Item: Denver's altitude causes the internal combustion engine to work less efficiently, thus pumping more pollutants into the air.

Item: Denver's almost daily sunshine, much bragged about by the Chamber of Commerce, is an essential ingredient of photochemical smog and is detrimental as far as air pollution is concerned.

Angels, A's Tied for 2nd Place, AL W.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Reggie Jackson hadn't started a game in 10 days and Blue Moon Odom hadn't finished one in five months.
But they've both got nine innings behind them today, and the Oakland A's are hoping to get more distance from them through the American League homestretch.
Jackson drove in two runs with a single and his 18th homer while Odom pitched a two-hitter and swatted a bases-empty homer as the A's ripped Kansas City 7-1 Sunday for their sixth consecutive victory.
It was the first start for Jackson since Aug. 26 when he was benched during a prolonged batting slump. It was the first complete game for the injury-plagued Odom since April 16—when he beat Chicago 3-1 in the A's eighth game of the season.
The victory, coupled with California's 3-1 loss to Minnesota, moved the A's into a second-place tie with the Angels in the AL West. They trail the first place Twins by six games.
In other Sunday action, Boston downed Baltimore 9-6 in 11 innings; Detroit shaded Washington 8-7 in 12 and the New York Yankees trimmed Cleveland 4-1. The White Sox were rained out at Milwaukee.
In the National League, Pittsburgh nipped Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings; Cincinnati got by San Diego 6-5; San Francisco edged Atlanta 1-0; St. Louis beat Montreal 7-2 and Houston defeated Los Angeles 4-3. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game at Chicago was washed out by rain.
Jackson, used primarily as a pinch-hitter or late inning defensive replacement in recent weeks, replaced Felipe Alou, out with a hand injury, in the Oakland lineup.
His fourth-inning single ended Wally Bunker's scoreless string at 20 innings and tied the game 1-1. Then, after Odom hit his third homer of the year as the A's scored twice in the fifth, Jackson belted his 18th homer in the sixth. It was his third in the last seven times at bat.
Odom, a 15-game winner last season whose effectiveness has been limited this year because of arm troubles, gave up a second-inning homer by Billy Sorrell and then stymied the Royals until Lou Piniella doubled in the ninth. Odom has won eight of 13 decisions.
Cesar Tovar capped a big weekend at Anaheim by driving in all of Minnesota's runs with a double and homer as the Twins completed a three-game sweep of the Angeles. Tovar had seven hits, including the homer and two doubles, in the three games. He scored four runs and stole four bases.
Tom Hall blanked the Angels on three hits until the ninth, when he needed help from relief ace Ron Perrañoski.
The Red Sox beat Baltimore on a bases-loaded wild pitch by Pete Richert in the 11th after tying the game in the eighth on a two-out, RBI single by Carl Yastrzemski.
Frank Howard drove in five runs with his 39th and 40th homers, personally erasing a five-run Detroit lead, but the Tigers won it in the 12th on Norm Cash's single a double by Elliott Maddox and an error by right fielder Del Unser.
Fritz Peterson hurled a five-hitter, bringing his season mark to 17-9 and pacing the Yankees to their third straight over .500 by beating the Yankees 4-1 in the 12th on Norm Cash's single a double by Elliott Maddox and an error by right fielder Del Unser.

Big Question: Is Rod Laver Slipping?

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Is Rod Laver slipping?
Dennis Ralston, who plays the Australian court king next in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, says so—although Dennis may be guilty of some wishful thinking.
"I think Rod definitely has slipped a little and the rest of the field is closing in," said Ralston, the contract pro and Davis Cup coach from Bakersfield, Calif.
Jack Kramer, the ex-champion and ex-promoter who has seen the great and near-great pass in the unending parade, agrees with Dennis, but both of them get a good argument from Laver himself.
"I've won four of the last five tournaments in which I've played," the little left-hander said tartly when advised of Ralston's remark. "If that's slipping, I'll take it."
"All I can say is: we will find out Tuesday."
That's when the top-seeded Laver, the defending champion, and the 19th-seeded Ralston play in the fourth round of the men's division.
"I've always played well against Rod," Ralston said. "I don't dread him as some do. I don't mind his wide left-handed service to my backhand. I lob and volley well against him. I am 1-2 against him in matches this year."
Kramer said age tends to be a factor in this tough tennis test and at 32 Laver may be beginning to feel the inroads of time.
"That frail little body of his has put in a lot of miles," Kramer said. "If you look over the record, you'll find few men in modern history who won this tournament after they were 30 of course, Bill Tilden and Wilmer Allison. I can't think of any others."
"Laver is still the best in the world. But he has to feel well and be on top of his game or he may be beaten. At Wimbledon, we said, 'nobody can beat this guy—he'll have to beat himself.'"
"And he did. He lost to Roger Taylor in the fourth round."
Laver insists his game has lost none of its old edge. "In fact," he added, "I've improved my service. I get more first serves in. It is true there are more good players and competition is tougher."
Both Laver and Ralston won third-round matches impressively Sunday. Laver whipped fellow Aussie John Cooper 6-1, 7-6, 6-3. Ralston topped Fred Stolle of Australia, three times a Wimbledon finalist, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.
Dogged Cliff Richey of San Angelo Tex., also kept America's hopes alive by beating Pierre Barthes of France 7-6, 6-3, 6-4. He next plays Spain's

Pirates Still 1st in NL East

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cool-Hand Luke and Hot-Hand Bob are two of the main reasons the Pittsburgh Pirates refuse to slip out of first place in the frenzied National League East.
The left-handed pitcher and slugging first baseman-outfielder did it again Sunday, leading the Pirates to a 4-3 victory in 10 innings over the Philadelphia Phillies.
Coupled with the rainout of the Mets-Cubs game in Chicago, it boosted Pittsburgh's lead to two games over Chicago and 2½ over New York.
Walker went the route for his 12th triumph and Robertson, who drove in two earlier runs with fly balls, smashed a 10th-inning homer off Dick Selma for the winning run.
Elsewhere in the NL, St. Louis downed Montreal 7-2, Cincinnati edged San Diego 6-5, San Francisco nipped Atlanta 1-0 and Los Angeles tripped Houston 4-3.
In the American League, it was Minnesota 3, California 1; Oakland 7, Kansas City 1; Boston 9, Baltimore 8 in 11 innings; the New York Yankees 4, Cleveland 1 and Detroit 8, Washington 7 in 12. The Chicago White Sox and Milwaukee were rained out.
The Pirates don't really care that Walker and the sidelined Dock Ellis are their big winners with only 12 apiece or that none of the hitters is approaching 100 runs batted in. Al Oliver leads that department with 77 and Robertson has 71.
"So what," snorted Robertson. "We're in first place, aren't we?" And Manager Danny Murtaugh adds: "The only thing we care about is winning ball games. That other stuff doesn't mean beans."
For a while it looked as though the Pirates might lose Sunday. They trailed 3-1 but tied in the fifth and Walker held the fort until Robertson finally won it.
The only bad news the Bucs received Sunday was that star right fielder Roberto Clemente will be hospitalized for a few days to determine the cause of a lower back injury incurred when he grounded out Friday night.
The Mets and Cubs waited almost three hours for the rain to stop but the umpires finally gave in and called it off. The game will have to be played in New York when the Cubs come in for the last series of the season.
According to NL rules, they must schedule a doubleheader for Sept. 29, first day of the series. But both teams said they will ask the league for permission to play on Sept. 28, an off day, if neither team is delayed by other postponements.
Bob Gibson became the first St. Louis pitcher ever to win 20 games in five seasons as the Cards turned back the Expos. Gibson helped his cause with a two-run single while Joe Torre and Lou Brock homered.
Jim McGlothlin achieved his 12th victory on his 12th try as the Reds overtook the Padres on two-run homers by Bobby Tolan and Johnny Bench. It was Bench's 43rd but his first since Aug. 23. Ed Spiezio and Clarence Gaston connected for the winners.
Gaylord Perry hurled a four-hitter and Bobby Bonds homered in the third for the only run as the Giants shaded the Braves.
The Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead in the eighth on home runs by Cesar Cedeno and Norm Miller but squeaked past the Astros with a run in the ninth on singles by Billy Grabarkewitz, Tom Haller and Manny Mota.

Manuel Santana, who ousted England's Taylor 6-3, 7-6, 2-6, 7-6.
Arthur Ashe Jr., of Richmond plays Tom Okker of the Netherlands in one of the featured matches today.
Other fourth-round duels send Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., against Roy Emerson of Australia, Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia against Ken Rosewall of Australia and Clark Graebner of New York against Wimbledon champion John Newcombe of Australia.
The women's division completes the quarter-final bracket with favored Margaret Court of Australia playing Pat Faulkner of Australia and Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., opposing Russia's Olga Morozova.

Namath, Jets 27-14 Over New Orleans

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Joe Namath's knee hurts. Ooh, it hurts the New Orleans Saints.
As a matter of fact, his arm kills them, too.
Namath's fabled knee took an un-saintly whacking Saturday night, but he shook off the pain and passed the New York Jets to 27-14 National Football League exhibition victory over New Orleans.
"Namath was the difference," said Saints' Coach Tom Fears. "He was tough. He didn't show us anything that we didn't know he had. He threw the ball beautifully, he threw it perfect every time."
The Saints' Mike Tilleman, a 280-pound tackle, tested Namath's ravaged right knee, barging through and spilling the Jet quarterback. But it appeared to hold up, even though Joe needed some exercise before returning to action.
In other Saturday exhibitions, the New York Giants belted Philadelphia 27-7; Denver turned back Chicago 30-17; Kansas City Handcuffed Dallas 13-0; Los Angeles ripped Houston 20-3; Washington stopped Miami 26-21; Baltimore edged Detroit 20-14; Green Bay and Cincinnati played to a 10-10 tie and Minnesota beat Cleveland 24-21 and San Diego took St. Louis 38-27 in a doubleheader.
Oakland rocked cross-bay rival San Francisco 31-17 in Sunday's only game.
Namath only played the first half, but did enough damage for the whole game. He hit 7 of 9 passes for 188 yards, including a touchdown throw to George Sauer. He also punched over another TD himself from a yard out. His performance gave the Jets an unmountable 27-0 halftime lead.
Namath didn't suit up for the second half, but strolled along the sidelines in a sweat shirt and shorts, an ice pack strapped to the knee which almost forced his retirement earlier this year. "The knee's all right," he said.

said. "Once I began walking around on it, I began feeling a little better."

Fran Tarkenton scrambled Philadelphia's defense by hitting his first 12 passes in leading the Giants' victory out of their revitalized "I" formation. "We got back to the offense that the team is best at," said Tarkenton, referring to Coach Alex Webster's preference for the formation which stacks the running backs directly behind the quarterback.

Tarkenton passed for three touchdowns as the Giants struck quickly and never looked back. Floyd Little set up a touchdown with a scintillating 77-yard run, pumping life into Denver's offense in the second half as the Broncos stamped the Bears.

Len Dawson moved Kansas City 79 yards following the opening kickoff, climaxing the drive with a 30-yard TD shot to Warren McVey as the Chiefs turned back Dallas. The Cowboys were unable to penetrate the Chiefs' gully defense.

Roman Gabriel's fourth-quarter passing sparked a 17-point uprising in the Los Angeles triumph over Houston. Until the fourth quarter, field goals by Houston's Roy Gerela and Los Angeles' Davis Ray had been the only scoring.

Stunned by two Miami scores within a minute of the first period, Washington rode Sonny Jurgensen's bullet passing to a comeback victory over Miami.

John Unitas passed for one touchdown and set up another as Baltimore tamed the Lions. The 37-year-old veteran hit 11 of 24 passes for 102 yards.

Fullback Perry Williams busted through the middle for 12 yards to the one-yard line, then crashed over for a touchdown to give Green Bay a come-from-behind tie with Cincinnati.

Fred Cox kicked an 11-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to give Minnesota a last-minute victory over Cleveland in the second game of the NFL twin bill at Municipal Stadium. Backup quarterback Marty Domres led San Diego to three touchdowns in the final period to point the Chargers over the defenseless Cardinals in the opener.

Daryle Lamonic fired two touchdown passes to Warren Wells in Oakland's Sunday success over San Francisco. The 49ers were losing by 24 points before they got their first score, a third quarter field goal.

AMERICA'S CUP race will follow 24.3-mile course indicated in map and diagram. Windward leg (or base of triangle) is 4.5 miles. This year, Australia's Grelat II will attempt to do what 20 previous challenges have failed to accomplish—take the America's Cup from the United States.

Calls Denver Good Solid Ball Club

By LOUDON KELLY
Associated Press Sports Writer
DENVER (AP) — Stocky Lou Saban, on the verge of the fourth season of his 10-year contract as coach and general manager of the Denver Broncos, says: "We are sure we will have a good, solid ball club this year."
Every starter on offense and defense, except possibly one linebacker, should be an experienced pro veteran.
One linebacker spot in the starting defensive eleven should go to Dave Washington, from Alcorn A&M in Alabama, a draft choice, or to Bill Butler, signed as a free agent from San Fernando Valley State College. They are among a half dozen rookies who have brought a slight gleam to the frosty Saban eye.
"We have a good mixture of rookies and veterans and the youngsters we have had for the last two or three seasons are beginning to mature," he said.
The No. 1 quarterback will be Steve Tensi, but he won't be ready for heavy duty for another week or so. Tensi, whose pro career has been short-circuited often by injury, underwent surgery this summer for removal of a disc from his back.
Pete Liske, opening his third season with the Broncos after a stretch of canadian football, is the backup quarterback and has done most of the signal calling in exhibition games this summer.

Russia Triumphs in World Games

TURIN, Italy (AP) — The Soviet Union turned an eight-day pursuit of the United States into a triumph in the last days of the sixth World University Games, taking four more gold medals than the Americans.
It was an unexpected conclusion of the Games for the United States, which had held the lead in gold medals for 11 days and had been expected to win the unofficial team standings. The Russians won 26 gold medals to 22.
The Americans dominated the swimming events, but the Russians did much better in the track and field competition, and piled up golds in the minor events, such as baseball, fencing, volleyball and gymnastics.
The United States remained empty-handed in the minor sports. The Soviet victory was obtained by a team of over 200 competitors, twice as many as the Americans.
The Americans felt the absence of many top college stars, mainly in the track and field and in the basketball tournament.
Russia posted a surprising 78-71 victory over the United States in the basketball final Saturday night. The Americans missed a number of shots from close and medium range.
The Soviet Union over-all topped 26 gold, 17 silver and 16 bronze in the two-week tourney which drew 2,370 athletes from 64 countries. The United States had 22 gold, 18 silver and 11 bronze.
East Germany was third with eight gold medals, followed by Italy's four and three apiece by Japan, Hungary, West Germany, Great Britain and Poland.
The difference between the American team at the 1967 Universiade and the Turin team could be seen through the numbers—10 world records in the swimming in 1967 and not one here.
In the track and field the only two world records came from an East and West German. The Americans won only three of 33 track and field titles.
The University Games in Turin have confirmed the rising strength of East Germany as a top track and field country. The East Germans, European champions in the competition for national selections in Stockholm one week ago, won eight titles here.
Japan has proved to be the top team in the men's gymnastics, while the Soviets have dominated the women's event.

Until he was laid low by a knee injury, Little led all American Football League ball carriers last season.
The Broncos have strengthened their forces substantially in other trades, getting safetyman Paul Martha, tight end Billy Masters, and cornerbacks Cornell Gordon and Booker Edgerson.
Edgerson played under Saban at Buffalo and Western Illinois College. Martha gives the club an excellent free safety—"a position that is difficult for a rookie to fill," the coach said.
The offensive line has veterans like tackles Mike Current and Sam Brunelli, guard George Goeddeke and center Larry Kaminski. On defense, such as Rich Jackson, Dave Costa, Rex Mirich, Pete Duranko, Jerry Inman and linebackers Chip Myrtle, Carl Cunningham and John Huard don't have to step aside for anybody in the National Football League.

The pass-receiving corps has able operatives like Al Denson, Mike Haffner and John Embree plus first-year man Jerry Henderson. At Idaho last season Henderson was the top pass-catcher among major collegiate teams.
All-America back Bob Anderson, who set a career total of defensive record in the Big Eight Conference at Colorado last season, has been pretty well swallowed up among the horde of husky job seekers at the mile-high training camp and also has been bothered by a slight knee injury.

But Saban says: "The young man has lots of promise and he'll learn and develop." Anderson was the Broncos' No. 1 draft choice.
Another rookie the coach is high on is 250-pound defensive end Alden Roche from Southern University.
Denver, a charter member of the AFL when it was formed in 1960, never has been a contender. Under the new alignment of the expanded NFL, the Broncos are in the same section of the league's American Conference with the Kansas City Chiefs, Oakland Raiders and San Diego Chargers.

Saban calls it the toughest division in the NFL. "If we can win in this division," he said, "we won't be afraid of any of them."

Allen

PROSPECTUS—As far as Rams are concerned, 1970 is countdown to Super Bowl, an elusive target for George Allen regime. Three close misses haven't discouraged them. In fact, several vets close to retirement keep hanging on because of prospective bauble. Complemented by young studs, strength is keynote of Ram philosophy. They overpower teams.

Mack

OFFENSE

PASSING—Roman Gabriel stands tall (6-4) and firm (220 pounds) as MVP of NFL last year, a confirmed leader, unswerving under pressure. Once reticent type, he's come out of shell as strong personality, too. Without him, Rams can dump all title dreams. Rating—A—

RECEIVING—Same cast as last year. Could even afford to trade Jim Seymour, top draftee of '69, because little Wendell Tucker is in solid. Wendell has the speed; Jack Snow has the sure hands and the moves. And tight end has fine one-two tandem of Bill Traux, Bob Klein. Rating—B+

RUNNING—They'd like to get some speed injected, which puts it squarely up to Willie Ellison, who's had three years to assert himself. Realistically, Larry Smith (wow as rookie) and Les Josephson will still carry major load, with spot duty by such as Tommy Mason. A plus is that they're all good receivers. Rating—B

DEFENSE

LINE—Maybe David (Deacon) Jones didn't have super year in '69; but what's mediocre for him is great for anyone else. And Merlin Olsen is 1-2 among top tackles in game. If Roger Brown can get his weight down, he'd help. Meanwhile, Diron Talbert as Olsen's tackle mate and Coy Bacon, strong rusher, round out quartet. Dick Evey, from Bears, is swing man. Rating—B+

LINEBACKING—Coach Allen is great believer in experience, but rookie Jack Reynolds is making him think about changes in middle, where Myron Pattios, Doug Woodlief have been splitting duty. Talked Marie Baughan out of retirement, so flanks remain same, with Jack Pardee on left side. Insurance man is Jim Funnell. Rating—B

SECONDARY—Allen's persuasive gab also got Eddie Meador to come back for another year, and they picked up Kermit Alexander from 49ers to play corner back. But so far, Jim Nettles has stood off Kermit's challenge. Need a better year from Clarence Williams at left corner. Richie Petitbon solid as strong safety. Rating—B+

KICKING—Pat Studstill, still a handy guy for receiver depth, maintains long range on punts. David Ray has stepped in as the field goal kicker, replacing traded Bruce Gossett. Rating—B+

Tex. Expected to Be Nat. Champ Again

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — College football starts its second century and a new decade next week with the same old names expected to continue merrily on their winning way.

Texas is conceded a good chance to defend the national championship it captured in 1969 by winning 10 regular season games, including the thrilling 15-14 Presidential finale against Arkansas, and then turning back Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl 21-17.

The Longhorns' top competition for the No. 1 spot figures to come from a revenge-bent, keyed-up Ohio State eleven, furious at being toppled from the top by Michigan in the 1969 windup after winning everything in 1968 with a perfect season.

Southern California, the 1967 champion, and Notre Dame, No. 1 in 1966, also are given a shot, along with Arkansas, Mississippi, Stanford, Houston, Penn State and West Virginia.

The following teams are favored to battle it out in the various conference races: Southwest—Texas and Arkansas; Southeastern—Mississippi, LSU, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee; Big Eight—Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas State; Big Ten—Ohio State and Michigan; Pacific Eight—Southern Cal, Stanford and UCLA; Atlantic Coast—South Carolina, North Carolina and Duke; Southern—The Citadel and Richmond; Mid-American—Toledo; Western Athletic—Arizona State and Utah; Missouri Valley—Memphis State and North Texas State; Ivy—Dartmouth, Yale and Princeton.

The last team to win consecutive national championships in The AP poll was Alabama in 1956-65, but Darrell Royal of Texas thinks his Longhorns can repeat despite the loss of 25 lettermen (34 are back).

"When things are going well, as they have been for us, everybody expects you to keep on winning," says Royal. "We could have just as good a team as last year."

Texas' returnees include two second-team All-Americans in fullback Steve Worster and defensive end Bill Atessis; and halfback Jim Bertelsen, a third-team selection.

Normally you have to search far and wide for a coach willing to predict a good season, but right on Royal's heels comes Woody Hayes of Ohio State, who can call on 31 lettermen from 1969, including two All-Americans, and 28 holdovers from the unbeaten Rose Bowl champs of two years ago.

"This team should be as good—a little better than last year," Hayes said the other day. "You've got to put us right near the top again, I think. But you never have a great team unless the seniors are playing their best ball—every one of them."

The Buckeyes' All-Americans are corner back Jack Tatum, who could become the first defensive player to win the Heisman Trophy, and middle guard Jim Stillwagon. Directing the attack is quarterback Rex Kern, the slickest ballhandler in college ranks and another prime Heisman contender.

At Southern Cal, where only a tie with Notre Dame marred an otherwise all-winning season, John McKay has his backfield back intact — quarterback Jimmy Jones, tailback Clarence Davis, fullback Charlie Evans and flanker Bobby Chandler, the most valuable player in the Rose Bowl victory over Michigan.

The famed "Wild Bunch," however, the defensive front five, was the heart of the 1969 club and tackle Toddy Smith and end Charlie Weaver were the only returnees there. But line-backer Greg Slough, touted as the best in the country, and back Tyrone Hudson assure another strong defensive unit.

Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian welcomes his starting Cotton Bowl backfield — quarterback Joe Theismann, fullback Bill Barz and halfbacks Denny Allan and Andy Huff. The offensive line is Parseghian's main concern, even though graduation took All-American defensive tackle Mike McCoy, the pros' No. 2 draftee.

Arkansas returns the brilliant passing combination of quarterback Bill Montgomery and split end Chuck Dicus, plus a superb runner in Bill Burnett.

Mississippi features irreplaceable quarterback Archie Manning, along with nine other offensive starters. Manning and Stanford quarterback Jim Plunkett are the pre-season favorites for the Heisman hardware.

Houston, which just may have been the best team in the land at the close of last season after finishing with nine straight victories — including a rout of Auburn in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl — has an outstanding passing combo in quarterback Gary Mullins (if he's healthy) and split end Elmo Wright and punishing runners in Ted Heiskell and Robert Newhouse. Wright is on the verge of three NCAA career pass-catching records.

Penn State lost 11 starters, including the two first team all-Americans from the magnificent defensive unit, but Coach Joe Paterno always comes up roses.

New Coach Bobby Bowden (Jim Carlen went to Texas Tech) steps into an enviable position at West Virginia with a holdover backfield of quarterback Mike Sherwood, halfbacks Bob Gresham and Eddie Williams and fullback Jim Brazton.

The only other returning first-team All-American is Tennessee guard Chip Kell. Other second-teamers back are Worster, Atessis, Wright and Plunkett while third team returnees are Bertelsen, Manning, Florida flanker Carlos Alvarez, halfback Joe Moore and tackle Larron Jackson of Missouri, defensive tackle Rock Perdoni of Georgia Tech and Cornell tailback Ed Marianaro.

The 1960s was a decade of brilliant passers and 1970 may be the Year of the Quarterback. Such hurlers as Plunkett, Manning, Theismann, Montgomery, Mullins, Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist, Lynn Dickey of Kansas State, Scott Hunter of Alabama, John Reeves of Florida and Leo Hart of Duke will keep the air filled with footballs.

Regazzoni Wins Italian Grand Prix

MONZA, Italy (AP) — Clay Regazzoni won the Grand Prix of Italy in record time—but it wasn't easy. He had the numbers stacked against him.

Five cars were heading toward the finish line in a close pack, separated by mere yards.

Regazzoni turned on the power in the last 10 laps and finished the 68 laps and 244 miles in one hour, 39 minutes and 6.88 seconds Sunday. His average speed of 147.93 miles per hour wiped out the old mark of 147.83 m.p.h., set by Jackie Stewart of Scotland.

Regazzoni, of Switzerland, drove a Ferrari 312B to victory. One Month. Stewart, in a March-Ford, was the runnerup in 1:39.12.61.

Jean Pierre Beltoise of France was third in a Matra-Sinca in the Formula 1 race.

Jockey Wins 6,032 Race, Ties Record

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Shoe is tied.

Jockey Willie Shoemaker won his 6,032nd race Saturday, and tied the career record of Johnny Longden.

Blanked on his first four mounts at Del Mar, including odds-on favorite June Darling in the $75,425 Del Mar Debutante, Shoemaker tied the record by winning the ninth race aboard favored Esquimal.

The Shoe was scheduled to ride seven races today.

The big races on today's holiday schedule were the $100,000-added Governor Nicolls at Belmont Park, the $75,000-added Hawthorne Derby for 3-year-olds at Hawthorne and the $50,000-added Del Mar Handicap for 3-year-olds.

Joining the Del Mar Debutante, won by Generous Portion, were the $58,700 Gazelle Handicap for 3-year-old fillies at Belmont Park, won by Missile Belle, and the $41,500 Kelly-Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City, taken by Red Reality.

Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Johnston's Generous Portion, ridden by Dennis Tierney, got home by 2½ lengths ahead of June Darling, with Ulla Britta third in the race for 2-year-old fillies.

The winner ran the six furlongs in 1:09 3-5 and paid a winning mutual of $13.20.

Missile Belle, owned by John A. Morris, carried 120 pounds including Pete Anderson to a neck victory over Wheatley Stible's Predictable, 114, with Jean-Louis Levesque's favored In the Kelly-Olympic, a 1½-mile turf race, Charles Engelhard's Red Reality, 115, won by a nose over Paul Mellon's Fort Marcy, 126, with Nathan L. Cohen's Mister Dix, 116, third. Bill Hartack sent the winner, $8, over the distance in 1:48 2-5.

Red Reality was coupled in the betting with Mr. Leader.

In other Saturday features, Barley Once, $4.20, won the Illinois Owners' Handicap at Hawthorne; King of Cricket, $3.80,

E. Germany Dominates Rowing Meet

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. (AP) — East Germany won the eight-oared shell in a blistering 5:36.10 Sunday to grab a third gold medal and cap its domination of the third World Rowing Championships.

Their collection of three gold and four silver put the East Germans way ahead of the other 10 medal winners, which captured no more than one gold apiece.

The United States was tied for a distant last with New Zealand and Czechoslovakia, each with one bronze medal.

Eleven of 12 boats bettered the previous best time for the eight-oared shells. Australia broke on top but couldn't hold fast-closing East Germany's 36 beats-a-minute pace. Russia wound up second with a time of 5:38.20. New Zealand turned in 5:38.40 to take a bronze medal.

West Germany was second in the overall medal picture, winning a gold, silver and bronze. Denmark won a gold and silver and Argentina and Romania had a gold each.

Russia won a silver and bronze and Poland a silver.

Canada, as host country, entered all of the seven events in this showcase of international racing talents, but was shut out in the medal race.

20-Year-Old Has Seventh Tourney Win

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Lanny Wadkins doesn't like to wait.

"The more you wait the more you know what can go wrong," Wadkins said. "I already know what can go right, so why wait? Billy Casper plays that way and he's doing alright."

So the 20-year-old Wake Forest junior lined up a 20-foot putt on the 18th hole, sank it for a birdie and clinched the U.S. amateur Golf Championship Saturday.

It was his seventh tournament victory of the year, including the Southern and Western Amateur tournaments.

Wadkins came from two strokes back to overtake Tom Kite Jr., 20, a University of Texas junior, with a final-round par 70 for a 72-hole total of 279.

Kite, of Austin, Tex., had a 73 for a 280 on the 6,496-yard Waverley Country Club course.

The final round quickly became a two-man duel as the rest of the field fell farther behind. Gary Cowan, Kitchener, Ont., Jim Gabrielsen, Atlanta, and Jim Simons, Butler, Pa., tied for third at 284.

McElreath Has Victory in Calif. 500

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Veteran driver Jim McElreath surprised the bigger names and a crowd of 180,223 with victory in the spectacular California 500 mile inaugural race and he himself wasn't totally prepared.

"I might not be too well dressed for the victory banquet because I sent my clothes home on Saturday night," the 42-year-old from Arlington, Tex., admitted after averaging 160.108 miles per hour for the grueling test that knocked bigger names out.

In the final two laps, McElreath outduelled another vet, 45-year-old Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., to take the checkered flag in a two-year-old Coyote-Ford.

Not running among the seven finishers were such stars as Al Unser, the 1970 Indianapolis 500 champ who led the California much of the time; pole-sitter Lloyd Ruby, Mario Andretti, Dan Gurney, A. J. Foyt and others.

Victory earned $146,850 for McElreath, who started 18th in the 33-car field, and Pollard, who was next to last in the qualifying, collected $73,500.

Asked if he were resigned to taking fourth or fifth place as the race conclusion neared, McElreath said, "No, it's not all over until the checkered flag. I thought I might be able to get a break toward the end."

As trouble struck first Unser's P. J. Colt-Ford and then the Brabham-Offy of stock car Ace LeeRoy Yarbrough when they led, McElreath and Pollard were in position to go for the top prize.

First it was Pollard's Scorpion-Ford in the lead when Yarbrough's car blew an engine with less than 23 miles to go. He led for four laps before McElreath passed him. They traded the lead twice more before the Texan took over on the 196th lap and won by two seconds in a race lasting 3 hours, 7 minutes, 22 seconds.

Foyt, whose car had ignition trouble most of the race and then hit the wall, had prepared the McElreath car and A. J. said the outcome wasn't too surprising.

A wind of 15 miles an hour at the start blew some sand on the track and the conditions were bothersome to many. Some who went out early complained of dirt sucked into the engine.

Unser led 106 of the laps before going out with engine trouble after completing 106 of the 200 circuits required at the new $25.5-million Ontario Motor Speedway. Still he collected $55,000 including lap prizes and this boosted his winnings this year to $396,944, most of any driver in a single season.

Dick Simon of Salt Lake City, driving a Volstead-Ford was third, a finish good for $47,150. Gordon Johncock of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., took fourth, and Revson was fifth. Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind., and Greg Weld of Kansas City were the only other drivers to finish.

Greatest Threats to Earth: Air Pollution, Population

Distributed by NEA

"If we don't do something fast, there won't be anybody left to do something about it." So said one college junior from Los Angeles in response to a recent National Gilbert Youth Poll on concern for our environment.

Nine of 10 American youths feel current concern about pollution is justified. Reasons for feeling this concern varied from "There's no good air left for us to breathe" to "My child's life is in jeopardy."

Air pollution and overpopulation were seen as equal threats to our environment. Thirty-seven per cent of the respondents said air pollution is the greatest problem we are currently faced with, and an additional 37 per cent chose overpopulation as the most serious threat to our future.

Only 13 per cent of the youths picked water pollution as the worst problem, and 16 per cent felt we should try to reduce all kinds of pollution without assigning priorities.

High school students were most concerned about air pollution, 42 per cent of them citing it as the greatest threat hanging over our heads. Only 35 per cent of those out of school and 31 per cent of those in college single out air pollution as the most threatening problem.

College students said overpopulation is the biggest burden on our shoulders. While 45 per cent of them found this to be our greatest threat, only 33 per cent of the high school students and 36 per cent of those out of school felt similarly.

In the smoggy Northeast,

42 per cent of the young people polled said air pollution is the greatest threat to our environment. While one might expect the West to be equally concerned with smog problems, youths there felt overpopulation was the biggest danger to our environment (43 per cent for overpopulation vs. 34 per cent for air pollution).

Who should bear the cost of eliminating pollution?

"If big business through manufacturing pollutes our water and air, they should use their millions to clean up their work," said a 22-year-old from Union, N.J.

Not everyone supported this young man's opinion, however, as less than a third of the respondents felt private industry should pay all the costs of the antipollution fight.

As one respondent from Wilmington, Del., said, "I feel the one who pollutes is responsible for what he does. But whether the polluter can pay for it is another story. That's why I think the government should have some incentive system to help stop pollution."

More than 85 per cent of the respondents said government is not only best equipped to handle the environmental problems facing our country, but that the government also should help bear the cost of attacking them.

More than half the youths felt the federal government should take the initiative to clean up America, while 19 per cent said state governments are responsible for paying, and 12 per cent favored local government action.

The results of this poll can be projected to the entire nation's youth population aged 14 to 25. The poll is based on a nationwide sample of 3,000 young people.

Coffee Consumption

Coffee is consumed, either as a hot or cold drink, by about one-third of the world's population in amounts believed larger than for any other beverage, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica

Frozen Pops

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Snack-time raiders have a treat in store. Simple frozen pudding pops can be made in quantity and kept in the freezer for anytime-use.

A change of taste is important to the young, so whip up marshmallow, nutty or chocolate-sprinkled vanilla versions for finicky fellows.

FROZEN PUDDING POPS

1 package (4-serving size) instant pudding, any flavor
2 cups cold milk or 2 cups half-and-half

Prepare pudding mix with milk as directed on package. Pour into six 5-ounce paper cups. Insert wooden stick or wooden or plastic spoon into each for a handle. Press a paper flower or a square of aluminum foil down onto pudding to cover, piercing center of flower with handle. Freeze until firm, at least 5 hours. Press firmly on bottom of cup to release pop. Serve with paper flower around handle. Makes 6 pops.

Marshmallow Pops: Prepare Frozen Pudding Pops as directed above, stirring 1/2-cup miniature marshmallows into pudding before pouring into paper cups.

Nutty Treasure Pops: Prepare Frozen Pudding Pops as directed above, placing 1 tablespoon chopped nuts in bottom of each paper cup before pouring in pudding.

Polka Dot Pops: Prepare Frozen Pudding Pops as directed above, using vanilla flavor. Roll each frozen pop in chocolate sprinkles before serving.

Instant pudding with milk and other flavorings make snack pop treats.

BUBBLY CAULDRON is cooler than it looks. It's a flotation process used in production of metal concentrates at Northgate Exploration's mine near Galway, Ireland. Technician is checking that proper amount of air and chemical reagents is added to fine-ore and water solution so that oxide lead will float off on bubbles for treatment.

Young Cooks Seek Quick, Easy Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Columnist

Self-help is the new "thing." The "do-it-yourself" cult is growing steadily. Even the President's wife is lending her prestigious support. So maybe the inflation-harassed public soon may be eating better, buying more intelligently and learning a bit about their basic nutritional needs.

Joyce Short, educator with the U.S. Consumer and Marketing Service, has a sensible approach to the question, "What shall I eat today and be able to pay for it?"

She is editor of Smart Shopper Food Guide and Every Day Food Guide, both published by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. These are issued monthly to leaders, focusing attention on the four basic food groups and the foods currently available at a good price.

With the guide go pages of recipes and also a simple but detailed drawing that illustrates, step by step, exactly how to proceed with the recipe.

"You would be surprised how many intelligent women are thrilled about the recipes and illustrations. They say they actually learn to cook," Mrs. Short says.

The Smart Shopper Food Guide has strong appeal for today's young marrieds.

"So many were never taught how to cook by their mothers. Either their mothers didn't take the time or the young girls didn't want to learn. Now they must learn. Young wives find in our pages a substitute for parental training in cooking.

"But they don't want to spend too much time. They insist that life and their food, like modern sex, be quick and easy. Our pages make this possible," she adds.

The Smart Shopper, begun in January, 1968, consists of 10 pages. Each month 5,000 copies are sent to teachers, vocational schools, public month are distributed. "Except for hard-line gourmets, the material seems to please most people. Many men write that they use them. A Florida school for the deaf, a hospital in North Dakota for the mentally deficient and a Salt Lake City adult education program are some users," according to Joyce Short, educated at Wheaton, Indiana State and American universities. Married and a young grandmother she is highly regarded at the USDA.

Joyce Short

"All the donated foods listed here are available nationally during a particular month. Since many foods are not donated in amounts to meet total family needs, we list other good and reasonably priced foods to supplement them," she reports.
